Youth Suffers Fractured Neck In Wreck Here

One youth was seriously hurt and two others escaped injury in an automobile accident which occurred about 4 p.m. Thursday on the Water Works Road about 1 1/2 miles south of Sedalia.

George C. Fletcher, 16, 1504 East Fifth, driver of a 1937 model car which was going north, reportedly lost control of the car, and it veered into the ditch on the left side of the road. It went a distance in the ditch and then returned to the road and turned over. The driver escaped injury.

The injured youth was Clifford Eugene Jett, 16, 1404 East Fourth. He suffered a fractured neck, broken rib and bruises and is in a serious condition in Bothwell Hospital. He was taken to the hospital by a passerby and treated by Dr. D. R. Edwards.

Now we know that God hears our prayers; but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth his will, him he heareth.—John 9:31.

House Loosens Purse Strings On Budget

Votes Tax Relief For Itself And Office Space to Solons

WASHINGTON (AP)—In a complete reversal of previous demands for belt-tightening economy, the House has voted substantial tax relief for itself and senators and free home town office space for congressmen.

The measure swept through the House yesterday as it passed the last of the annual domestic budget measures, a bill appropriating funds to operate Congress.

On all previous budget bills except one financing local river and harbor and flood control projects, the House has reduced allotments recommended by its Appropriations Committee. Demands for economy accompanied all the reductions.

By Voice Vote
The congressional budget bill cleared by voice vote and went to the Senate with the distinction of being the first bill this year on which the House actually raised the allotments recommended by the Appropriations Committee.

The bill's total of $62,391,780 was $1,500 more than the committee had suggested, although about 10 million below Budget Bureau recommendations. The money finances Congress, the Library of Congress, the Government Printing Office and related arms of the legislative department.

The $1,500 increase was for installation of more traffic signs and signals on Capitol Hill.

But two other amendments, for tax relief and free office rental, could run the added cost of the bill into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Offered By McCormack
The tax amendment was offered by Democratic leader McCormack of Massachusetts and approved without a show of opposition for discussion. The bill's Democratic and Republican managers announced willingness to accept it and the other members went along.

An examination of the amendment by newsmen disclosed its intent, which McCormack verified. It says that for purposes of federal taxation, members of Congress have their place of residence in the state or district they represent. This means that their expenses while on official business away from home are deductible as business expenses for tax purposes.

Since Congress normally stays in session almost the entire year, a member could deduct the cost of his housing, meals, transportation, business entertainment, laundry and many other things while in Washington.

Some Might Not Pay
For most members this could mean a tax reduction of around $2,000 annually. Those with higher than average living standards might pay no taxes at all.

The amendment takes effect with the tax year starting next Jan. 1, the same time that the present tax exemption on a congressman's annual $2,500 expense allowance ends.

Senators and representatives are paid $12,500 a year, plus a $2,500 expense allowance which now is tax-free. Besides that they receive smaller allotments for stationery, postage, communications and travel.

McCormack told newsmen the amendment merely gives members of Congress "on the same footing with others who come to Washington on business." He said businessmen are entitled to deduct for tax purposes their expenses while away from home and congressmen should have the same consideration.

The Internal Revenue Bureau, he pointed out, has ruled that since congressmen spend most of their time in Washington, they are considered residents for tax purposes and can't deduct their living expenses while here.

The free office space amendment was adopted by a standing vote of 133 to 78. Eighteen members insisted on a roll-call vote, but that was far short of the number required by the rules.

The amendment says that if a House member can't find free office space in government buildings back home, Uncle Sam must pay up to $900 annually for rental of private quarters for any member wanting it.

Senators already have an annual allowance for rental of office space in their home states.

He will address the reunion around noon on June 7.

Fired at Gen. Jernegan's Car

Officer, Wife And Two In Auto Are Not Injured

TUNIS, Tunisia (AP)—Trigger-happy French soldiers fired a sub-machine gun blast early today at the automobile of U. S. Consul General John D. Jernegan, 35 bullets pierced the car, but Jernegan, his wife and two other Americans in it escaped unhurt.

The incident occurred about 1 a. m. near the summer palace of the Tunisian sovereign, Bey Sidi Mohammed Al-Amin. The Jernegans live in the same area.

Jernegan said the French resident general in this unsequestered area, Gen. Jean de Hauteclocque, had expressed his regrets and sent out orders to troops in the area to stop being so trigger-happy.

An hour and a half after the Jernegan incident, a member of the resident general's own administrative staff, William de Peyster, was fired upon in about the same area. He escaped injury but several bullets also smacked into his automobile.

KANSAS CITY, (AP)—A psychiatric report that he was insane has resulted in the dismissal of two first degree murder charges against Richard Barry Donaldson.

J. Martin Anderson, assistant county prosecutor told the Circuit Court yesterday that two psychiatrists had declared the 30-year-old Donaldson insane. Donaldson will receive a Probate Court sanity hearing.

Donaldson was accused of slaying Alfredo Ortiz-Vargas, 53, an assistant professor at the University of Kansas City and Mrs. William Lay, 77, last August.

Housing Situation Discussed In Meeting at the Air Base

A meeting to discuss the housing situation in Sedalia was held at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Sedalia Air Force Base when a group of Sedalians went to the base to confer with Col. Leonard S. Flo and his staff. In the group were Jack Cunningham, president of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, Elliott Stafford, Neal Revburn, J. H. Reed, Mike Gokaris, Ben Robinson, Chester A. Brown, executive manager of the Chamber of Commerce, Ira DeJarnette, Kenneth Miller, Chester Wolfe and Kenneth U. Love, chairman of the housing committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Allot 174 Units
The Federal Housing Administration in Kansas City has allotted 174 of the 300 units in this area to Sedalia and several buildings already have units under construction. However, the overall picture is that builders have been unable to get the proper financing under FHA Title 9, which is the situation all over the country, because the Federal National Mortgage Association has exhausted its funds for granting mortgages.

The National Home Builders Association, the government and other agencies are calling the situation to the attention of Congress in an effort to have them appropriate funds.

During the meeting Col. Flo called the Second Air Force Base in Shreveport, La., and told of the problem of financing. He was told that two representatives would be sent to Sedalia in the near future to discuss the housing situation with the local builders and the housing committee, and arrangements for that meeting will be made at a later date.

Murray Still Insistent On His Demands

Steel Union Head Says He's Ready To Renew Peace Talks

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Steelworkers union chief Philip Murray said today he is willing to renew labor peace talks with the steel industry, but stressed he's still standing pat on his demands.

Murray told reporters at the union's big convention that it would be up to the industry to initiate new negotiations, and that he was always ready to accept a bid.

Murray made it clear in his remarks to the convention that he was unwilling to retreat from the eventual 26-cent an hour "package, plus union shop, recommendations of the government's Wage Stabilization Board. The industry has balked at the WSB proposals.

"This organization is not going to compromise any more on this issue," Murray told the cheering delegates. "Our demands already have been compromised by the WSB. We didn't get all we wanted by any means. And we're in no mood to compromise any more with anybody."

No Break As Yet
A solution to the deadlocked steel dispute thus seemed as hopeless as ever. Murray was willing to talk over his contract demands, but he placed a floor on any bargaining by insisting on the full WSB's terms.

Meanwhile, the industry was still under government seizure, with legality of the government operation of the seized industry in the lap of the Supreme Court. Wage rates and working conditions remain frozen by the high court's "status quo" ruling.

The steelworkers convention prepared to quit in its fourth day. It has passed all the expected resolutions—putting the 2,500 delegates on record again as favoring repeal of the Taft-Hartley Law and as supporting civil rights legislation.

A batch of Truman administration lieutenants had given their support to the union's side in the steel labor controversy.

The real question—and one of which there was no immediate answer—was how long will the steelworkers remain at work without a pay raise. They are now technically government employees under Truman's seizure order, and as such are barred from strike action.

However, delegates unanimously declared in a resolution Wednesday that they wouldn't work indefinitely without higher wages and working conditions. This gave Murray an advance okay to call a strike if he chose. But any walkout likely would provoke a court injunction against the union.

A possibility is a walkout, perhaps involving only part of the industry at first and lacking a formal strike call from Murray. He then could plead to a court, which might order the men, as government employees, back to work, that the workers were acting on their own initiative, not on union strike instructions. John L. Lewis once made that successful contention when his coal miners remained idle around seizure.

The distinct impression gained during the convention was that the steelworkers don't intend to let things drift indefinitely. If the Supreme Court rules the seizure legal, they expect Truman to raise their wages by approximately the WSB's terms. If the court rules the seizure unconstitutional, they expect to strike to force the WSB terms from mill owners.

Stickup 'Gun' Of Woman Just Toy

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Police reported that a shabbily-dressed, gray-haired woman tried to hold up an auto loan company today but was captured when the clerk recognized her "pistol" as a toy.

The clerk, Henry Mueller, said the woman walked in and handed him a penciled note which said, "Put $1,500 in this bag. Be quiet. No one will be hurt."

Mueller said the woman ran out when he spotted the shiny toy. He caught her after a short chase. Police said she gave her name as Irma Huskey of St. Louis.

Democrats Make Switch To Harriman

On GOP Side Taft Still Has Lead Over Eisenhower

By The Associated Press
The Associated Press tabulation of presidential nomination delegates today switched W. Averell Harriman back into the lead in known and avowed delegate strength for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The change came about through another poll of the 70-vote Pennsylvania delegation which subtracted 20 delegates from the column of Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, and put them in the uncommitted category. Many who had said they would abide by the preference primary results in their districts which Kefauver won now say they have been released from those promises for various reasons.

Harriman now leads Kefauver 92 to 88 1/2 out of 67 delegates already named. The rest scattered and include 268 1/2 uncommitted.

The Republican totals show Senator Robert A. Taft leading General Dwight D. Eisenhower 366 to 156 uncommitted.

Sweetheart of Rail Line Dies at 19

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Death has ended the hard-luck story of Minnie Rose Webb, 19-year-old sweetheart of the Illinois Central railroad.

Minnie died yesterday. In 1942 an appendicitis operation left her a crippled invalid. Railroaders soon noticed her waving to passing trains from a front porch chair at her home near Covington, Tenn.

Seven years ago Conductor J.W. McNamara stopped a freight train to say hello, and saw Minnie's plight.

Soon afterwards the railroaders sent the young girl to St. Louis, where noted surgeons operated on her at the Shriners' Hospital for Crippled Children.

Even so, Minnie could never walk for long without pain. A little more than a month ago she was stricken with meningitis, and yesterday she died.

M'Arthur Warns on Politics

Asserts That 'Ugly Threat of Military State' Is Evident In American Scene

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur, in an address closely scanned by politicians, warned last night against "political conniving" which he said threatened America with a "military state."

Today Gen. MacArthur's motorcade rolled through nine Southeastern Michigan communities en route to a second and lesser address on the Detroit City Hall steps at noon.

He told a special joint convention of the Michigan Legislature last night:

"We now find some of the leaders of one party openly endorsing their own selection as the nominee of the opposition party. . . . They encourage segments of their rank and file to influence the selection of its nominee for the presidency."

"This form of political conniving is destructive to the very essence of true representative government and sets the stage for the emergence upon the American scene of the ugly threat of a military state."

He made no specific reference to any political party or candidate. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is the only military man now a presidential candidate.

Gen. MacArthur paused for emphasis both before and after he spoke out against the "political conniving." An enthusiastic audience of legislators and guests dominated by Republicans applauded these portions of his address most heavily.

The retired supreme Far Eastern commander warned, the history of the world shows that republics and democracies have generally lost their liberties by way of passing from civilian to a quasi-military status.

"It would be a tragic development," he continued, "if this generation was forced to look to the rigidity of military dominance and discipline to redeem it from the tragic failure of a civilian administration."

"It might well destroy our historic and wise concept which holds to the supremacy of the civil power."

MacArthur lashed the national administration.

"Our leaders," he said, "are unable to survey the world as a unit, but have become so infatuated with one area of Western Europe that they have largely ignored the Communist assault in many other sections of the globe."

In one section of the world we oppose colonialism," MacArthur said. "In another, we support it. In one sector we bristle; in another we appease. . . . Our European preoccupation is so great that we almost entirely ignore the enemy in other areas and even allow continental Asia to go by inertia and default. . . . In Korea, where victory was in our grasp, we go from bad to worse."

To Armed Economy
In what he called, "the very heart of our country's industrial strength," MacArthur said, "our country is now geared to an armed economy which was bred in an artificially induced psychosis of war hysteria and nurtured upon the incessant propaganda of fear."

"Talk of imminent threat to our national security through the application of external force is pure nonsense," he continued. "Our threat is from the insidious forces working from within, which have already so drastically altered the character of our free institutions."

Declaring "there is no politics in me, nor none intended in what I say," MacArthur asserted, "a reasonable limit must be placed upon the very exercise of the power to tax, easily the most abused, as history has shown, the most dangerous of all sovereign powers."

"We must avoid confiscating income and draining resources to the point that the private ownership of property will practically disappear from our economic system."

Decision In Suit Early In June

KANSAS CITY (AP)—U. S. District Judge Albert L. Reeves says he expects to make a decision after June 1 in the $150,000 damage suit against Sheriff Glenn Powell and Deputy Julius Wiedenmeier of Columbia, Mo.

The suit was brought by Robert Mueller, who charged the officers with false arrest in their investigation of the unsolved slaying of a 14-year-old baby-sitter, Janet Christman, at Columbia in 1950.

To Get Acquainted With His Wife After Retirement

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Frederick E. Heeren, 66, Missouri Pacific dining car steward 30 years, retired yesterday to the farm he has been looking forward to.

It will give him a chance to become acquainted with his wife again. He has been so busy on train runs he hasn't seen her since Jan. 1. Their farm home is near Omaha, Nebr., far from the run of the MoPac's Colorado Eagle.

During his three million miles of travel he has served four presidents—Coolidge, Hoover, Roosevelt and Truman.

His favorite passengers were the old-time Kansas City politicians. They tipped the best, he explained. He received two $100 U.S. Savings Bonds from the Missouri Pacific supervisory employees.

Rebellion By Seniors At Fulton High

Action Against Trio After An Outing Brought On Tumult

FULTON, Mo. (AP)—The commencement ceremony at Fulton High School last night was a tumultuous affair.

Forty-six of the 79 seniors broke up the program. The speaker gave up and went home. An armistice was reached and the program started over. Then some of the 30 students who already had received their diplomas refused to return them so the presentation could be reenacted.

The program finally was finished after an interruption of an hour and a half.

The rebellion resulted from disciplinary action against three senior boys.

Girl Asks Einstein To Help Her Solve Problem; He Does

HOLLYWOOD — When 15-year-old Johanna Mankiewicz and her Westlake School classmates found they couldn't solve a plane geometry problem, they thought of a way to get the answer.

So Johanna, the secretary of the sophomore class, wrote to Dr. Albert Einstein at the Institute for Advanced Study, Princeton, N. J.

She wrote in part:

"Here is the problem. The common external tangent of two tangent circles of radii 8 inches and 2 inches is — I think you will agree it is the hardest thing."

Prof. Einstein answered by return mail. He enclosed a sketch on the back of her letter indicating the method of solution but withholding the answer. The diagram was signed "A.E."

Although some parts of the diagram were still beyond the students, they figured the answer must be 8 inches.

Johanna, daughter of Herman Mankiewicz, Hollywood film writer, found that the 73-year-old physicist had also apparently solved the problem of sending the reply by air with a 3-cent stamp.

One solution established the length of the tangent through the pythagorean theorem (square of hypotenuse of a right triangle is equal to the sum of the squares of the sides) by plotting the tangent with the two differing radii in a triangle.

Next Atomic Test On Saturday Morn

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — The next atomic test, delayed by heavy radioactivity from the most recent shot at Yucca Flat, is scheduled tentatively for Saturday morning.

Although the blast had been slated for last Monday, the abnormal radioactivity from the May 7 test prevents workmen from getting on the site.

An AEC spokesman said:

"Very strong and variable surface winds which developed a few hours after the last test scattered radioactive dust across Yucca Basin, contaminating other firing areas, including the one to be used for the next shot."

The May 7 test was a tower detonation, which normally leaves greater residual radiation than an aerial burst.

Allied Airplanes Quiet Red Guns, Damage 2 Tanks

SEOUL, Korea (P)—Allied planes silenced 20 Red guns and damaged two tanks Thursday in close support strikes along the 155-mile Korean battlefield, the Air Force said today.

Clear weather permitted Allied planes to fly 1,200 sorties.

Fighter-bombers roared deep into Communist territory to blast communication lines and supply centers. A main target was a big vehicle repair center near the Red capital, Pyongyang. The Air Force said 30 buildings were destroyed.

Other U.N. planes ranged almost to the Manchurian border, cutting Red rail lines in 65 places. In all, the Air Force said, 30 gun positions were silenced, 20 rail cars destroyed and 100 Communist buildings destroyed.

On the ground, Allied infantrymen repulsed light Red patrol thrusts.

Korea Says 17,000 Reds Don't Want To Return Home

PUSAN, Korea (P)—The Republic of Korea National Assembly said today it had received petitions from 17,000 Communist prisoners of war who did not want to be returned to Communist Korea.

The petitions were received three weeks ago from the Allies' Koko Island POW camp. They presumably were made out before the Allied redistribution of anti-Communist prisoners was completed.

The assembly said 2,000 of the prisoners submitted letters written in blood.

The petitions pledged the prisoners' loyalty to the Republic of Korea and willingness to fight communism.

CARE Official Says There Is No Freedom Of Religion For Slavs

MUNICH, Germany (P)—A director for CARE (Cooperative for American Remittances to Europe) says there is no religious freedom in Yugoslavia.

There is still plenty of church-going in the Communist land, said Msgr. Joseph Koncius of New York, a Roman Catholic priest, but "we to teachers and officials who are seen in a church."

"Children are forbidden to read the catechism. More than 200 priests are in prison. In the religious, social and political fields I do not see any difference between Yugoslavia and the Cominform countries," he declared after a five-day tour for CARE of Premier Marshal Tito's country.

Koncius said Catholic Archbishop Aloysius Stepinac told him he felt his release from prison last December had done little good, since he was still unable to serve his church.

Pravda Losses Blast At U. S. 'Atrocities' To Korean Prisoners

MOSCOW (P)—Pravda today unleashed an expected blast at alleged U. S. Army atrocities against North Korean and Communist Chinese war prisoners.

The Communist party organ declared Brig. Gen. Charles F. Colson, negotiating with Red prisoners to free Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd from the Koko Island compound last week, "confirmed the fact of beastlike treatment of war prisoners."

The Americans, Pravda charged, had outdone Hitler with "their sadistic methods."

Terming Koko "Death Island," Pravda said the American military is using torture, violence and mass murder in dealing with war prisoners.

The paper declared Colson in effect admitted that in "American camps for war prisoners, there reigned a regime of tortures and violence not to be distinguished from the regime of Hitler's death camps."

A picture of Miss Reed and another striking senior, Miss Marianne Rottman of St. Louis, accompanied the article.

About Miss Reed the article read as follows:

"This issue's striking seniors are not only striking as students, but as musicians."

"D'Ann Reed, who you know as our Vesper Organist, has many activities to her credit. She is a member of the Student Council, Beta Beta Beta, President's Club, Vesper Board, League of Women Voters, and Modeling Club; president of St. Cecilia and of Organ Guild; and is Business Manager of the College Widow."

"D'Ann's pet peeve is sarcasm and insincere people. She collects records and also Demitasses."

"D'Ann is an organ major and a piano minor. As yet her transfer plans are indefinite. She hails from Sedalia, Missouri, but at CC she calls Hughes Hall home."

Sedalia's Part In Music Week

By Mrs. Ernest Liebel,
Helen G. Steele Music Club
Music Week Chairman

It is significant that National Music Week, which has been observed in 4,000 communities during the past week, should begin and end with Sunday. The church has, through the centuries, grown hand in hand with music and it would be impossible to imagine a church service devoid of music.

The annual spring concerts were presented during the week by the Sacred Heart and Smith-Cotton High Schools. Music is, for all children, part of their equipment for living and enriches the life of the individual and the community.

National Music Week is promoted locally by the Helen G. Steele Music Club.

The keynote of this year's National Music Week was "Make Your Life More Musical" and ties in perfectly with Mother's Day, on which the week ended, because not only does life begin in the home, but usually a life of music, also.

Neighborly Club Has Demonstration

The Neighborly Neighbors Club met Thursday, May 8, with seven members and five guests present. Mrs. Tom Conway gave the devotional. Roll call was answered with a Mother's Day poem. A demonstration on the care of sewing machines was given by Mrs. Conway.

The next meeting will be June 5 at the home of Mrs. Tom Conway.

The Origin Of The Lily

By MRS. R. C. WILLIAMSON
1501 South Limit

The word Lily is of Chinese origin, and comes from the Chinese word Li which means white in the English language. You are not to infer that all lilies are white, but word white dominates the lily family largely because the white lily could only be grown on the properties of the Royal blood.

The colored lilies could be promiscuously grown, but severe penalties at one time followed the growing of the white lily in China. To grow a white lily was to impersonate royal blood.

There are over 400 different species of lilies growing in all parts of the world. Lilies are often spoken of in the Bible which merely shows that each and every generation has had contact and observation of lilies.

At about the end of the 15th century the white lily was taken to Japan, but was only to be by the royal families. A little later the Catholic Church was successful in converting many Japanese to their faith. The two dominant religions, Shintoism, and Paganism decided to banish all Catholics, or exterminate them. Thousands were driven into the sea off steep cliffs, but some of the royal blood was banished to distant islands.

The custom of the royal families to grow the white lily was adopted by the Japanese, as the Chinese had been doing for centuries. The royal citizens pleased for the privilege to take their lilies with them, this was allowed. On the island of Formosa many subjects were banished, and they did take their lily insignia with them.

Before World War II the greater part of the lilies grown in the United States were from bulbs grown in Japan, as this was an item of export trade in the Japan. The Japanese grown lily bulbs have been replaced by American grown bulbs, the larger part of which are known as the Croft lily, which is grown extensively in Oregon.

Thanks Lord In Escaping Gas Chamber

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. — The convict wept and shook hands with the other two men. He cried "Thank the Lord. Thank the Lord."

John Lewis Johnson had just been told last night that Gov. Forrest Smith had commuted his death sentence to one of life in prison. Col. Ben Marvin Casteel, director of corrections, carried the good news to the 30-year-old Negro in his death row cell.

The prisoner's Catholic chaplain, Father Stevens, tried to get Johnson to lie down and keep from getting too excited.

"I'm all right, Father," Johnson managed to say. "I'm all right."

The commutation came just about six hours before Johnson was scheduled to enter the state's lethal gas chamber to die for killing a St. Louis county policeman. Two officers, Pelham C. Scott and another named Juettemeyer, were killed Oct. 9, 1949, as Johnson tried to escape arrest. He was tried and convicted for killing Scott.

Father's Plea Heard

But the governor, moved by the plea of Johnson's father, the Rev. James Johnson of St. Louis, had a psychiatrist study Johnson yesterday.

The doctor's report showed that Johnson's mental condition was so abnormal that he couldn't know right from wrong, the governor said later.

His record showed Johnson had been in three institutions where he was diagnosed as a feeble-minded epileptic.

Under the commutation he must spend the rest of his life in the prison or in a mental hospital for criminally insane patients. There would be a chance that he might get a pardon eventually.

Casteel said the overwhelmed Johnson, promised he would be a good prisoner and would remember the governor's action the rest of his life.

Church of England Bishops to Probe Spiritual Healing

LONDON (AP)—The bishops of the Church of England last night agreed to investigate the revival of spiritual healing they say Britain is undergoing.

The Bishop of Rochester, Dr. C. M. Chavasse, told the upper house of the Convocation of Canterbury—the church's highest governing body—that a doctor had told him of three cases of cures which looked like miracles.

One case, he said, was a girl "in an advanced state of tuberculosis who suddenly said, 'I am sick of this,' got up and was cured."

The Bishop of Ely, Dr. H. E. Wynn, said there was a great revival of interest in spiritual healing inside and outside the Church of England.

Student Killed, 3 Hurt In Head-on Collision

ARNOLD, Mo. (AP)—A two-car, head-on collision killed one St. Louis high school student and injured three others late yesterday as they were returning from a senior class picnic.

The dead youth was Robert E. Massey, 18, a member of St. Louis University high school's championship football and soccer teams.

Clarence R. Thornton Sr., of Kimmiswick, Mo., the driver of one of the cars, also was injured in the wreck near here on U. S. Highway 61.

Pictures US As A 'Lost Pagan Mission Field'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A Baptist minister pictured the United States as a "vast, lost, pagan mission field."

Dr. W. A. Criswell, pastor of the largest white church in the world at Dallas, Tex., told the Southern Baptist Convention last night that "the threat to American democracy and freedom and the Satanic challenge to our Christian institutions does not arise only from abroad—it arises also ominously from within."

He reported that of the 1,400,000 children in New England, "1,100,000 of them are growing up without any religious instruction whatsoever."

Story Same in West

"In the West the story is the same," he said. "Eighty per cent of the people who live in Washington and Oregon have no religious affiliation whatsoever."

"There are suburban communities along the Pacific Coast larger than Orlando, Fla., or Wichita Falls, Tex., with no church of any kind. Within our convention territory there lives a population of 79 million of which over 40 million are unchurched."

"The betrayal of human values as Christian virtues by the American people themselves is a far more sinister threat to the American way of life than the military forces of Soviet Russia or Red China."

Solomon F. Davis of Atlanta, secretary of the Department of Cooperative Missions of the Home Mission Board, told the convention that "the rural areas of our country are the 600 new churches to meet the needs of the people."

The convention late yesterday unanimously re-elected Dr. J. D. Grey of New Orleans as president for a second year.

Dr. C. C. Warren of Charlotte, N. C., was elected first vice president and Dr. E. V. Peyton of Lock- lies, Va., second vice president.

Billy Graham Fights Castellani Tonight

NEW YORK, May 15.—Two of the ring's fancy dands, welter-weight contender Billy Graham and middleweight Rocky Castellani, clash tomorrow night in a ten rounder at Madison Square Garden.

This should be a treat for connoisseurs of the fistie art. No slam-bang stuff here. Both of the boys are experienced and they both sharp-shoot with rapid-fire left jabs. A bout between two skillful boxers these days is a rarity.

Graham, 29-year old veteran of 11 pro fights, is rated a shade under on offense and has a much stronger chin. One that has been made a 7 to 5 favorite.

The bout, reopening the Garden for the pugilists, will be broadcast (ABC) and telecast (NBC) starting at 8 p. m. (CST). Under New York scoring, the fighter who wins the most rounds is awarded the decision.

Recess In The Peace Talks Is Now Suggested

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—For the ninth straight day Red truce negotiators blasted the Allies and again virtually forced them to formally break off the armistice talks.

Vice Admiral C. Turner Joy, senior Allied delegate, spoke for only two minutes of the 30-minute session. He used his time to "reject finally and formally" the Red prisoner exchange proposal and suggest a recess until the Reds have something new to offer.

North Korean Gen. Nam II replied:

"Unless you formally declare the termination of these armistice negotiations, you have no reason to object to the normal holding of conferences."

Another session was scheduled at Panmunjom tomorrow at 11 a. m. (9 p. m. Friday EST).

Joy told the Reds "we again reject finally and formally" the Red proposal calling for exchange of 132,000 captured Reds for 12,000 Allied captives in Communist hands.

Nam II was equally firm in rejecting the Allied voluntarily repatriation plan. It would return only 70,000 prisoners to the Reds. The rest of the Red prisoners questioned refuse to return to Communist territory, the U.N. Command said.

The prisoner issue is blocking an armistice.

Nam II said a letter written by Brig. Gen. Charles F. Colson, former commander of the Allies' Koje Island prison, "has disclosed to the whole world the utter bankruptcy of your position."

Colson wrote the note to obtain the release of Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd, who was seized by the POW's. The letter, since repudiated by the top Allied command, admitted guards had killed prisoners (in Red riots) and promised "humane treatment."

Joy said he told the Reds "they were cloaking their fears of the truth and dodging our rescuing program. I told them the remainder of their remarks were unworthy of notice."

The Allies have offered to let the Communists see for themselves just which men don't want to return to communism.

NGM II calls this absurd.

The Red general declared the "Geneva Convention stipulates the so-called screening of war prisoners cannot be permitted. You attempt to tear the Geneva Convention to pieces. We will not join you. Neither will any true impartial organization join you."

Joy told him "we are here to attempt to gain an armistice and not to engage in an exchange of propaganda and recrimination."

Oppose Buildup Of Marines

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.) declared today that the Army, Navy and Air Force oppose increasing the strength of the Marine Corps because they fear it would cause a reduction in their own appropriations.

Vinson, chairman of the Armed Services Committee, led off House debate on legislation which would not only establish a minimum number of Marines but make their commandant a member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

As the bill passed the Senate, and was approved by the House armed services group, the Marines would be maintained at not less than four combat divisions and four combat-strength Marine air wings. The House committee stipulated that a personnel minimum of 300,000 be established to keep the units up to strength.

Vinson announced, however, that in the interest of economy he will offer an amendment to make the minimum strength three combat divisions plus three full-strength air wings and supporting units.

Supporters of the legislation count on this concession to attract wavering members.

Sharp Advance In St. Louis Livestock Market

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—The sharp advance in hog prices continued today, with an increase of another $1.00 to $1.25 to a top of $23 a hundredweight at nearby National Stockyards.

That was the highest in nine months.

The market has been rising steadily since April 28, when the top price was $17.50.

Better Sales And Orders In Industry Hike

NEW YORK (AP)—Some of the depressed industries are reporting the first signs today of what could be a turn in the tide.

Those seeing either better sales and orders, or believing that the bottom has been reached for their business, include spokesmen for:

Cotton, rayon, acetate, knitwear, dresses, shirts, shoes, men's wear, furniture and TV set makers. These are among the industries that went into the slump first. And while the makers of many durable consumer goods, the pioneers on the recession trail may now be starting to beat their way back.

Department store sales last week ran six per cent ahead of a year ago—thanks, in part, to Mother's day buying. Thirty chain stores and mail order houses report April was far ahead of a year ago—the thirty-first chain was an exception.

Business in men's wear stores in April averaged 18 per cent ahead of that month in 1951, the National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers reports.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago adds a cheering note about farmers. Their cash receipts in the first four months of this year ran three per cent above the same period last year. The bank thinks for the entire year farm cash income may top slightly the nearly $3 billion dollars of last year. Some in Washington, however, think it will be just the other way around.

Shareholders in American business still fare well. The Commerce Department says corporations' cash dividends in the first three months of 1952 ran six per cent above the first quarter of 1951, although earnings were down. That is because when they were making more money, the corporations were conservative about dividends and retained a larger percentage of their profits.

Allies Ignore Soviet Threat, Study Treaty

BONN, Germany (P)—Ignoring Communist threats, Allied and German officials said today the West German peace contract will be as ready as they can get it on Monday and the Big Three foreign ministers will come here late next week to settle final points and sign the document.

The Communists have charged the Western treaty is planned to touch off a bloody civil war and have called for east German counter measures, including a national army in the Soviet zone.

Today's announcement came at the end of an 18-hour meeting of the three Western high commissioners and German leaders—longest session in their eight months of negotiations.

During the all night session they pounded out agreements on 25 points, leaving only five to finish in their final meeting Monday.

Two or three further questions will be referred to the American, British and French foreign ministers when they meet with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer before the signing ceremony.

German Secretary of State Walter Hallstein said one major question discussed in the marathon session concerned "war production in strategically exposed areas."

He did not elaborate, but apparently the negotiators were trying to decide what types of arms West Germany will produce for the European army to which she will contribute some 400,000 troops.

U.S. Asst. Commissioner Samuel Rober said the negotiators will try Monday to crack the knotty financial question which has been the main snag blocking completion of the contract.

Both the Allied forces stationed in Germany and the Bonn government are claiming a lion's share of the 2½ billion dollar new German defense budget. The Germans, who estimate the cost of rearming will cost them between 3½ billion and 4½ billion dollars in the first year, want to cut their money contribution to the Western forces to the bone.

Hallstein said this question also probably would have to be turned over to the foreign ministers.

They also will be asked to decide on the new German proposal to put the peace contract into effect before the parallel European army treaty is ratified by the six member nations. The Germans want the contract to become effective as soon as it is ratified by the Big Three and Bonn governments. The Western powers previously said the contract and the army treaty would go into effect at the same time. The Germans say the army treaty's final approval probably won't come for several months after the contract is ratified.

Missouri Has 17 Ike Votes, Only 5 Favoring Taft

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (P)—Missouri wound up its selection of Republican National Convention delegates yesterday with at least 17 supporting Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and five favoring Sen. Robert A. Taft.

The other four in the 26-man delegation are considered probables for Eisenhower.

The last of 13 district GOP conventions was held yesterday at Kirksville. Taft picked up the two delegates chosen there. The series of district meetings to select delegates began April 29.

Four of the district delegates will be designated as delegates-at-large by the state GOP convention at Kansas City June 2. This is a mere formality to comply with the national committee's orders and will not give the state any additional votes at the GO P presidential nominating convention in Chicago next July.

He'll Sleep Now, Wife Can't Douse Him With Water

DETROIT (P)—Arthur J. Knighton Jr., a factory worker here, today plans to catch up on some sleep — thanks to a ruling by Circuit Judge Chester P. O'Hara. Judge O'Hara yesterday issued an injunction restraining Knighton's wife, Nettie Mae, from dousing him with scalding water. Knighton complained that his wife dumped the hot water on him while he slept.

Taft Welcomes Truman's Word He'll Make Whistle Stop Tour

WASHINGTON (P)—Sen. Robert A. Taft said today he welcomes President Truman's decision to make a whistle stop campaign for the Democratic presidential nominee this fall.

Taft, who wants to become the Republican nominee, told this reporter he is delighted to hear that Truman is going to head the Democratic campaign, no matter who the nominee is.

The Ohio senator has been caustically critical of the Truman administration's record.

Sen. Lodge (R-Mass.), heading the drive to get the GOP nomination for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, said he isn't particularly interested in what Truman does.

"I think we are going to have an affirmative campaign, based on what the Republican party plans to do and not just depend on criticizing the Democrats," Lodge said. "And it won't be a 'me-too' campaign if Gen. Eisenhower is nominated."

This last was an allusion to Taft's contention that Eisenhower would be advised by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, another Eisenhower campaign leader, to soft-pedal criticism of the administration's foreign policies.

In his first definitely-scheduled address on his return from Europe—in Abilene, Kan., June 4—Eisenhower is not expected to discuss detailed political policies.

However, Lodge said on a radio program last night that Eisenhower will be "very vocal beginning June 4 and will unquestionably talk about the major issues of the day."

Another speech has been tentatively listed for June 14 in Detroit, although Lodge said there was no final decision on this.

A Michigan speech might be calculated to offset, in part, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's assertion at Lansing last night that maneuvering in the nomination race "sets caused a drop in agricultural prices on the eve of the election to make the farmers think further declines could be expected if the Republicans were elected.

There is not a word of truth in that and he (Dewey) knows it, Truman said, adding that's just a political statement.

In Albany, Dewey said in a statement: "I regret to see that the President is again forgetting recent history, which seems to have become a habit with him. I refer him to the official reports of a decline in prices of wheat, corn, hogs and beans just before the election in 1948."

Truman also told reporters at his news conference that:

1. He would be honored to be a delegate from Missouri but he won't attend the Democratic convention until after the party's presidential nominee is selected.

2. He hasn't decided which candidate he would be for but he is willing to work for any candidate who is nominated just as hard as he worked for himself in 1948.

3. He knows what kind of a platform the convention will adopt—it will be in line with party platforms from 1932 through 1948 and will endorse his "Fair Deal" proposals.

Truman smilingly turned away efforts of reporters to draw him out on his choice for the party's presidential nomination.

However, he made it clear that he himself doesn't want the Democratic nomination again.

The President insisted he can support any nominee the party chooses. He praised the qualifications of W. Averell Harriman of New York, the mutual security administrator, and he said the same praise applied to Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia, chief congressional opponent of his civil rights program, as well as to all of the other candidates who have been mentioned.

Rural Life Sunday Will Be Observed By Most 4-H Clubs

The majority of the 32 4-H clubs in Pettis County will observe Rural Life Sunday with special programs and services in their community churches on this Sunday, May 18, for 4-H Sunday has become very important to 4-H members, their parents, leaders and neighbors.

"Rural Life Sunday is not a hit or miss proposition to these 335 4-H members," says Jim Perry, assistant county agent. These boys and girls, leaders and parents have been planning their program for three or four months now. It is no wonder that the day has become so firmly fixed in the 4-H club year."

The 4-H Club Sunday, usually held on the fifth Sunday after Easter, is closely linked with the Rogation Days, celebrated for centuries in the Christian church preceding the Ascension Day. Originally, there were several emphases, but it gradually became a day of prayer for God's blessing upon the fruits of the earth.

Rogation Days were first observed by St. Mamertus, Bishop of Vienne, in Gaul, some time prior to A.D. 475. In A.D. 511, they were ordered observed throughout France. In A.D. 747, observation of this day was established in England.

In fact, the idea is of far more ancient origin. In the earliest days of Egypt, the ceremony of blessing the land and the seed at the time of planting was widely observed. Therefore, when 4-H members assemble to worship God on 4-H Sunday, they are continuing to seek the blessing of God upon the land, seed, and the enrichment of home and community life.

Today's 4-H Club Sunday has become Rural Life Sunday, which was first observed as 4-H Club Sunday in 1929. It was suggested by the International Association of Agricultural Missions and was soon adopted by many religious bodies.

Biblical Records List Many Of Outstanding Mothers

By Mrs. Clifford Mawhorter

First of our "Bible Mothers" we have Eve, the mother of Cain and Abel. What a sorrow Eve must have borne over her son Cain, who killed his brother Abel.

In the second chapter of Exodus we read of the mother of Moses. Her faith saved him from death. How she loved her son and taught him in the ways of righteousness even though for only a short time. But how thoroughly. He became a great leader of the Israelites in the wilderness and God loved him so much he resurrected him and took him home to Heaven with Him.

Samuel's mother was another example of a true Christian mother. She believed God's word and taught her son at her knee. She gave him to the Lord at an early age. He, too, was a great man. Naomi, the wife of Elimelech, journeyed with her husband from the land of Israel to Moab, taking their two sons with them as there was famine in Israel. Naomi lived such a true Christian life that after the death of her husband and two other sons, when she returned to her homeland and Ruth, her daughter-in-law, went with her, choosing to serve God rather than the false gods of her people.

We also have records of mothers who were evil and the effects of their teachings. Athaliah, the mother of Ahaziah of whom we read: "For his mother was his counselor to do wickedly."

Herodias, the mother of Salome, had her daughter ask for the head of John the Baptist.

We would rather think of mothers such as Elizabeth, the mother of John the Baptist of whom Goad said: "She was righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord." And of Mary, the mother of Jesus, who was, "highly favored of God." She taught Jesus at her knee.

There are many outstanding mothers in the Bible, in the foreign fields and in the home land. Let us remember Ezek. 16-44, which says, "As is the mother, so is the daughter," so that we may never cause reflection to fall on our mothers.

And may we, as sons and daughters, remember the fifth commandment to "Honor thy father and thy mother, that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord, thy God, giveth thee," Exodus 20:12.

A prayer for Armed Forces Day has been written and a request is being made by the services that the prayer be read Sunday in all churches.

Lt. Col. Tunis S. Cordill Jr., chaplain of the Second Air Force including the Sedalia Air Force Base, has made the request locally for the Army, Navy and Air Force. Written by the Chaplain Board, the prayer is as follows:

"We humbly beseech Thy blessing, Heavenly Father, upon the arms of our nation on land, on sea and in the air, as we man the ramparts of the free world in defense of home, country and Thy rightful place in the human soul."

"Grant that our arms may serve the ends of Thy justice upon earth. So guide the leaders of our Nation and Armed Forces, as to insure that our might will ever be tempered with brotherly love, never blemished with the taint of tyranny."

"Let us forget our departed comrades-in-arms, from whose fallen hands we have taken up the sacred cause of freedom's right, we implore Thee, Merciful God, to grant unto them that peace and glory which is Thine alone to give. We consecrate unto Thee, upon our altars the debt of our national gratitude which is their due. Keep sacred their sacrifice on our hearts. Keep holy our cause in Thy sight."

"Grant that our cause may ever be such as to merit acceptance by Thee as Thine own. Enkindle within us a flame of selfless, unwavering devotion to duty that we may never be found wanting in those qualities of spirit and mind which alone can preserve heart and home, the peace of our nation and the world."

"We beg this blessing of Thy Providential Love as we face the great grim task which lies ahead. Amen."

Lanagan's Leprechauns, Like Real Fairies, Make Folk Gay

DUBLIN —Peter Lanagan's leprechauns dance at his command, bounce balls off their wrinkled old heads—do almost everything but lead him to that legendary creek of gold.

Strangers who go to Ireland always ask about the sprightly fairies.

parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Young, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Williams, Sedalia, were guests of relatives here Sunday.

The condition of Mrs. Leroy Heerman, who was dismissed from Bothwell Hospital last week, is satisfactory. Her son, Dennis, stayed with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Heerman.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Summers and children, Hughesville, were Sunday guests in the Arch Summers home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ellis, Concordia, Mrs. Cecil Lane and children and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Lane and sons, were guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lane, Sunday.

Pvt. Billie McFarland left Tuesday for Breckenridge, Ky., after spending a few days with his wife, who is ill.

The twins born Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hughes, Warsaw, are grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Boehmer. Mrs. Hughes, before her marriage, was Miss Annette Boehmer.

That did it. Not long afterwards ies and some even go in search of leprechauns. Should they bother to search out Lanagan they can see leprechauns by the dozen.

Tamed, too.

Lanagan is a traveling showman and the mischievous old men he bosses are marionettes. Some years ago a veteran entertainer saw a peep show Lanagan had made with his puppets and advised Peter to make an act of them and take the characters on the road.

"I did and they were a real hit immediately with the children; So much so that I have toured with them ever since," he recalled.

Keeping a troupe of the odd figures isn't all peaches and cream—even if Lanagan does pull the strings. He hasn't made a fortune with his little friends but he has made many children happy.

One day, as he tells it, "my little leprechauns" were in Limerick. He began his introduction:

"I wish to explain that these are real fairies and that they can only be seen by good little boys and girls. Any child can find these leprechauns if they go looking for them, but they must look early in the morning before school and the best time is after doing a good deed about the home—such as helping mother with little chores and without being asked."

Then there was that day in Cork when a man offered to buy one of the leprechauns for three pounds ($8.40) after being much impressed with their performance.

The would-be buyer asked to see the little men close up and Lanagan took one and put it on his hand. The man looked up queerly and said with a disturbed tone in his voice:

"Oh, now you are trying to trick me. This isn't what I saw. They were alive."

Perhaps they were.

GREEN RIDGE — Donald Short, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Short, a junior in high school, has been selected to represent the Green Ridge community at the annual Boys' State at Boonville in June. Short's trip is being sponsored jointly by Green Ridge Post 491 of the American Legion, Green Ridge IOOF No. 300, and Green Ridge lodge, No. 425, A.F. & A.M.

Green Ridge Rebekah lodge, No. 830, met in regular session Monday night, May 5, at the hall with the noble grand, Miss Erma Whallon, presiding. During the business

Lanagan read a Limerick newspaper and was somewhat disturbed to find that Limerick children were staying away from school hunting leprechauns.

"If they had only asked me," he said, "I could have told them that they never could find a leprechaun by staying away from school."

Then there was that day in Cork when a man offered to buy one of the leprechauns for three pounds ($8.40) after being much impressed with their performance.

The would-be buyer asked to see the little men close up and Lanagan took one and put it on his hand. The man looked up queerly and said with a disturbed tone in his voice:

"Oh, now you are trying to trick me. This isn't what I saw. They were alive."

Perhaps they were.

The Rebekah degree was conferred and three members were welcomed into the order. In commemoration of Mother's Day, Mrs. Roy Ragar sang as a solo, "That Wonderful Mother of Mine."

Following the meeting the hosts, Albert Upton, Mr. Smith and Miss Estelle Marti served refreshments to 39 members.

Burlington's New Route In Missouri In Use by October 1

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Harry Murphy, president of the Burlington railroad, said today the line's cut-off project between Kansas City and Brookfield, Mo., will be ready for traffic by October 1.

Murphy, here to inspect terminal facilities, said the section between Kansas City and Brookfield is 95 percent-completed.

"It makes the route shorter by 22 1/3 miles and means a saving in time of 45 minutes," he said. "When the link is finished it will require only an hour and 25 minutes for a rail trip from Kansas City to Brookfield."

Trucks' No-Hit, No-Run Victory For Tigers Top Baseball Topic

Shutouts Come In 4 of 5 Games Played Thursday

By JACK HAND Associated Press Sports Writer

Virgil Trucks' fine no-hit and no-run victory for the Tigers...

The correct answer probably is somewhere between the two extremes...

But the batters in both leagues did little to earn their pay...

If Manager Red Rolfe had written the script, the Tigers couldn't have arranged for a more dramatic finish...

With two gone in the last of the ninth, newly wed Vic Wertz blasted a home run into the upper right field stands...

Porterfield matched Trucks in the early going, pitching no-hit ball for 5-2 innings...

The no-hitter, second ever pitched by a Tiger hurler, was especially welcome to Trucks...

After a fine comeback last year when he won his last six games, Trucks showed good form at training camp...

May Drop Two Big Horses For Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP) — The names of the two "big" horses, Sub Fleet and Blue Man, are expected to be dropped into the entry box along with two others this morning...

The mile and three sixteenths gallop, carrying $75,000 in added money, drew six entries yesterday when the secretary's office opened the box for Preakness horses.

But Sub Fleet, the Dixiana Stable express which got second place behind Hill Gail in the Kentucky Derby two weeks ago, and A. W. Abbott's Blue Man, which rushed up to get third at Louisville, are yet to be named for the Maryland classic.

Trainers or aides dropped in the names yesterday of Sam E. Wilson's Gushing Oil, Mrs. Walter M. Jeffords' One Count, Gustave Smith's Handsome Teddy, Jack Amiel's Count Flame, Armageddon from Harry F. Guggenheim's Cain Hoy Stable, and Primate from the Starmount Stable of E. B. Benjamin.

Unless something drops down out of the clouds, these 10 three-year-olds will make up the field, and if all face the starter at 4:17 p.m. (EST) Saturday the race will have a fat purse of $113,270.

All starters will carry equal weight, 126 pounds, same as in the Derby, and the package they must pack if they go after the third number in the triple crown—the $100,000 Belmont Stakes June 7.

There is no lack of argument about which horse will be the favorite, in spite of the fact Sub Fleet seems to be the logical choice in view of his second in the Derby to Hill Gail. The latter left the Preakness rather open when he developed an ankle injury and was declared out of the Preakness classic.

Sub Fleet followers think they'll get around 2 to 1 if jockey Steve Brooks can win the race, to be televised and broadcast coast-to-coast (CBS TV & radio) starting at 4 p.m. EST.

On the other hand, the Blue Man admirers claim Abbott's colt suffered a poor racing lucky in the Derby, and instead he's the logical choice, or at least should be a co-favorite with Sub Fleet at about 5 to 2.

The weatherman may have something to say about the result, for the Saturday forecast calls for increasing cloudiness, warmer with showers. Trainers of Sub Fleet, Blue Man, Gushing Oil and Primate, an "oddf" track won't bother their horses.

Eddie Arcaro, who won the Derby with Hill Gail for his fifth career in that race, seeks his fifth Preakness with Whirlaway. Citation, Hill Prince and Bold.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The automotive engineers — and the drivers — will make another attempt Sunday to find out the ultimate speed on the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

They probably won't know the answer after the 7-hour period of time trials (10 a. m. to 5 p. m. CST) that will decide what car will start first in the 500-mile Memorial Day auto race. Every time they thought it had been reached somebody went faster.

The 2 1/2 mile track was built in 1909 and paved in 1910 and the only closed course in America where automobiles could be driven at full speed. The engineers visualizing 75 to 80 miles an hour as the top.

Smooth Mailbox Paint Job WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP) — Ever wonder why you rarely see a "Wet Paint" sign on a U. S. mail box?

Complications like sticky fingers and smudged clothes are avoided by replacing the mail box with a newly painted one when a paint job is needed.

In inland areas this is done every two or three years. In coastal cities replacement is made annually. Last year it took 9,000 gallons of quick-drying enamel to keep the nation's mail boxes spruced up.

S-C Tigers To Play B. J. Chiefs Sunday Night

Sunday night, weather permitting, the Smith-Cotton District High School Champion Tigers will play the Sedalia Chiefs of the CEMO B. J. League under the lights of Liberty Park. Game time has been set for 8 p. m.

It will give to Sedalia baseball fans an opportunity to see the Tigers in action, before they leave for St. Louis where they enter in the State High School tournament at Sportsmen's Park. The Tigers meet the strong St. Louis District winners in the opening of the tournament.

Bob Brown, manager of the Chiefs, says it is more of a practice session for both teams, a warm up for the B. J. and one for the Tigers. However Brown indicated they are not going to play loosely and let the Tigers win but will be after a victory.

The Tigers, many of whom will graduate to the Chiefs as soon as school ends, will be out to beat their future team mates.

Brown will pitch for the Chiefs while Don Delph will hurl for the Tigers in this contest.

Baker May Be Triple Winner In Big 7 Meet

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Sprinter Thane Baker of Kansas State today opens his bid for the first one-meet triple crown in Big Seven Conference track and field competition since the days of Glenn Cunningham at the University of Kansas.

Baker's teammates aren't expected to come up with enough support for a Kansas State team victory, but the lean Wildcat from Elkhart, Kas., appears capable of winning the 100-yard, 220 and 440-yard dashes.

Cunningham won triples — the 800, mile and two-mile — in 1933 and again in 1934 when the conference was the Big Six.

The Kansas Jayhawks, loaded in the middle distance runs and with three Olympic prospects, are favored to add the 24th outdoor crown to their 1952 indoor banner.

Preliminaries, beginning at 2:30 p. m. (CST), were on tap for all events except the mile and two-mile runs, mile relay, high jump and broad jump. Finals will begin on the Sooners' new $80,000 track at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow.

It's the first Big Seven track championship ever on Oklahoma soil, and Coach John Jacobs' Sooners are regarded as Kansas' chief rival for the championship.

On the form chart Kansas State appears the best long shot with defending champion Missouri, Colorado, Iowa State and Nebraska listed as also runs.

Japs Negotiated Moscow Trade Alliance Because of US Tariffs

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON — This column has obtained an alarming secret cable from the American embassy in Moscow warning that Japanese business leaders are negotiating a new trade alliance with Communist Russia — because Jap goods are barred from the United States by high tariff.

This is causing considerable worry at the state department. American diplomats have been doing their best to persuade European and non-Communist Asiatic countries to ban trade with Russia and China. But every time they make a stab in this direction, Congress or the tariff commission hikes tariffs higher.

The secret cable from Moscow, sent by Hugh Cumming, minister-counselor of the American embassy, tells how two prominent Japanese are in Moscow to arrange a trade deal with Russia. Because Japanese tuna fish and Japanese chinaware have been barred from the United States. The two Japanese leaders are Miyakoshi Kisu-ke, member of parliament and president of the Tokyo Machinery Co.; with Hoashi Kei, ex-member of the House of Councillors and a leader of the Japan Industrial Council.

Here is the secret embassy cable:

"From: Moscow
"To: Secstate (Secretary of State)
"Emb (embassy) learned Miyakoshi trip here motivated by U. S. tariff hikes on Jap tuna and ceramics plus fears further increases. Japs as present feel must seek markets in Soviet and China mainland. Hoashi came because present critical situation Japan with peace industries in slump and war plants unnaturally stimulated by buying for Korean war. Hoashi view the Japs have to get along with both SOV (Soviet) and U. S.

"Capturing New York
To the Wall Street commuter New York may be a humdrum, blase town. To the taxi driver it may be jaded; to the salesman it may be dreary; to the subway straphanger, heartless. But to a group of youngsters who came to New York from Colorado and Kansas, from Florida and West Virginia, to broadcast over the Voice of America last week, New York was the most glamorous, exciting city in the world.

They were those who had written the best of thousands of letters to youth behind the Iron Curtain. And although many, many more of these letters are being broadcast every day textually, this group came to talk in person, via the Voice, to the generation behind the Iron Curtain which can be our friends or our future enemies.

New York, and later Washington, took one look at them, and succumbed to the freshness of youth. They captivated the diplomats, melted the hearts of hard-boiled newsmen, even inspired taxi-drivers to give sight-seeing lectures on the wonders of Manhattan.

'Ho-Hum--Whose Move Is It Now?'

Everyone rolled out the red carpet, from the Hotel New Yorker, which entertained them in New York, to Moe Lerner of Airport Transport, Inc., who gave them two limousines in which to see the sights of Washington. And they trod the red carpet so surely that you scarcely would have guessed some of them were only 11 years old and never had been on an airplane before.

Cattle Ranch to Subway
When Margaret Fowler of Burlington, Colo., got to New York the first thing she did was to ride the subway and eat lamb. Living on a cattle ranch, where sheep and cattle don't mix, this was the first lamb Margaret had ever tasted.

What thrilled Bobby Hightower most was the Lincoln Memorial. Bobby is a Negro boy from Orlando, Fla., and the people of Orlando belied the propaganda lies of Moscow by sending Bobby on his long trip. He told the youth behind the Iron Curtain that he was studying to be a doctor — a future probably denied the great majority of young Communists.

Booker T. Washington of Plainview high school, Kansas, also got a thrill out of the Lincoln Memorial, but possibly he had more fun at a game between the New York Yankees and the Boston Red Sox. Back in Kansas, Booker's aged grandmother took a bus trip up from Muskogee, Okla., to see her grandson off on his pilgrimage to Washington, while his classmates gave him two sport shirts, and a friend of his mother's drove 15 miles to give him two dollars to buy soda pop in New York.

Booker told the youth behind the Iron Curtain how he, a Negro boy, was vice president of the Junior Hi-Y and a drummer in the high-school band.

Mary Marlin, aged 13, told her Iron Curtain audience about her town, Bellaire, Ohio — its people and its industries. Sharon Ann Adams of McMechen, W. Va., told about the great U. S.-Canadian border, unguarded and unfortified, a symbol of peace and friendship. A bit bashful, she did not tell them how, going up to the 43rd floor and the roof of the Hotel New Yorker she had looked down at the tiny autos and street cars on Broadway and felt a little dizzy. It would have been interesting if she had, for, in Moscow, buildings don't go much higher than ten floors.

Youngest Broadcaster
John Crison, 19-year-old refugee, from Cleveland, was the only youngster to broadcast in a foreign language. The others had their messages translated into 16 different languages, but John broadcast in Rumanian. When living in Rumania, he used to listen to the Voice of America.

Solemn, round-eyed Judy Kirchoff of Wichita, aged 11, is probably the youngest lady ever to broadcast to the Russian people. A few years older, Patricia Powers, also of Wichita, told of freedom in the USA. When she caught her TWA plane for Washington, the entire senior class of Mount Carmel Academy came down to say good-bye.

Lloyd Lindy Peters of Williamsburg, W. Va., got a bigger kick out of meeting J. Edgar Hoover here than visiting the Stork Club in New York where he was the guest of Eastern Airlines — though he cringed that, too. Ken Melrose of Orlando, Fla., also thrilled as Hoover graciously greeted the youngsters during an exciting trip through the FBI.

And though he didn't broadcast to Moscow, Ken's father, H. B. Melrose, patiently trudged through Voice of America corridors lugging a crate of Florida oranges for the members of the VOA. A little weary at the end of the trip, Mr. Melrose seemed to have had just as much fun as his 12-year-old son.

THE STORY: Jack Duggan, a private detective, has been murdered while masquerading under Basil Willing's name. The same night, Miss Katherine Shaw, aged and blind, who apparently was to meet Duggan at the home of Dr. Zimmer, dies. Miss Shaw's nephew, Brinsley and secretary Charlotte Denn cannot shed light on her death. But F. P. D. Lawrence faints when Basil is discussing Duggan's demise. Basil learns from Frank Lloyd, F. P. D.'s nurse, that the girl's father Stephen Lawrence is suffering from an incurable disease. Basil now is talking to Police Inspector Foyle, who has been investigating Duggan's belongings.

XVII
"I THOUGHT he might have kept some sort of record for his own convenience," explained Basil Willing.
"There are a few references to 'K. S.' but we can't even prove that means Katherine Shaw. More like a diary than anything else. Look for yourself," Foyle admitted.

It was a loose-leaf book filled with small, precise writing. There was only one page that interested Basil.

March 21—Contacted by K.S.
March 22—Suggested W.S. to K.S. and K.S. agreed.
March 23—Made arrangements for W. beginning March 24.
March 25—K.S. displeased; wants closer contact.
March 26—K.S. made contact for me April 1. Set-up in had but too late to change.
April 3 was the day Duggan had died.

Basil closed the book. "Could 'W. S.' mean W. Shaw? William or Wilbur or Wilfred?"
Foyle shook his head. "Brinsley Shaw is the only survivor. He has no other name."

"A fellow detective of Duggan's?"
"Every one who ever employed Duggan says he never farmed out footwork to operators from other agencies. We've canvassed the agencies. They've no record of his having done so. Perhaps W. S. was a lawyer."

"Named William Shakespeare," suggested Samson.

Basil laughed. "Mr. W. S. of the on the desk while Basil read. The record was a model of neatness and thoroughness and it told Basil absolutely nothing that he did not already know or suspect about Perdita.

Her physical health was good, her intellect alert, tastes cultivated. But she was emotionally undeveloped for her age.

Basil looked up at last to find Zimmer's alert blue eyes studying him with interest. "So?"

"I see nothing wrong with your treatment," said Basil. "My method might differ in detail. But we both agree in principle that subconscious anxieties must be resolved consciously and that external pressures should be removed wherever that is practical."

"I thought the Viennese school paid no attention to external pressures and concentrated on distorting the personality to fit any environment, however intolerable."

Basil laughed. "I don't belong to any school. Do you?"

"My teacher was a Gestaltist—Goettler of Prague. As I grow older, I find myself modifying many of his ideas and borrowing others wherever I find them—even from Vienna."

Basil picked up the folder again and flipped the pages until he came to the last one. "These dinners for patients and their families are a new idea to me."

Zimmer spoke earnestly. "I learn more about a patient from one of those dinners than from hours of office visits. When the orthodox Freudians made the patient relax on a couch and they induced an almost hypnotic state. All they saw was the passive, dream-side of his mind."

"Sometimes you get amazing insight that way."

"More amazing than reliable," insisted Zimmer.

"I'd like to see her at my office some day this week. I don't expect my medical findings to be different from yours."

"Won't all your findings be—medical?"

"How can they be in a case of this sort, involving murder as well as neurosis?"

With only his wife and one of his daughters home on Mother's Day, a man thought he would give them a treat and take them out to dinner. Of course the refrigerator was full of chicken ready to be fried and other food — but it was Mother's Day and a very special occasion.

So the family dined out. The waitress brought the menu and mother and daughter both ordered chicken.

"Why," said the father, who ordered roast beef, "Don't you take anything else — we have chicken all the time and we have a refrigerator at home full of it."

"But, we like chicken," came the answer from both. Father enjoyed his roast beef and his wife and daughter were happy with their chicken — H. L.

The Sedalia man was early for his appointment in Kansas City so he decided he might get a haircut along the way — and — perhaps save himself a quarter.

When he stopped at Lee's Summit, he went in a barber shop, asked for a haircut and got it. When the barber had finished the snipping and clipping, the Sedalia man, feeling he would certainly come out ahead on this deal and get the haircut for 75c, asked the price.

Without hesitation the barber said: "A dollar" and the Sedalia man paid, with a little unhappy feeling. He could have done him well at home.

Maybe with haircuts, as well as for all shopping, it pays to shop at home. — H. L.

Old College Try

SOUTH HADLEY, Mass. (AP)—Having college students make up their own beds and clean their own rooms to pare down college expenses is nothing new.

Back in 1837, Mary Lyon, founder of Mt. Holyoke College, organized her students into breakfast circles, laundry circles and baking circles. The first year all charges for board, room and tuition were $64; in 1838, by dint of good management, Mary Lyon was able to reduce the charge to $60.

Abilene Worries About Crowd Coming to Welcome Ike Home

By HAL BOYLE
ABILENE, KAN. (AP)—This celebrated old cow town's looking forward with somewhat worried pride to the return next month of one of the local boys who made good.

He used to work at the creamery here, where other employees taught him how to shoot craps.

There wasn't much of a crowd at the railroad station to see him off when he went East, years ago. But Abilene, a town of about 7,000 population, is expecting 50,000 to 100,000 visitors to help welcome back its favorite son—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Residents here aren't sure whether the event will tear the town apart. But is no secret most hope it will springboard "Ike" into a Republican presidential nomination.

During the 2-day homecoming celebration starting June 4, Gen. Eisenhower will lay the corner stone for a museum to house his war trophies, address a throng in Eisenhower Park, have a press conference and review a mammoth parade containing 36 floats symbolizing his career.

"Ike" definitely has replaced Wild Bill Hickok as the No. 1 hero of Abilene. Hickok was the peace officer who brought law and order to the town in the wild and woolly days when it was America's top cattle shipping center and its saloons outnumbered its business houses.

Summarizing home town sentiment for Eisenhower, Charles M. Harger, 89-year-old publisher of Abilene Reflector-Chronicle, said: "If you want to know how the and it was her first visit in her son's home for over three years. Mrs. Powell is 84. Mr. and Mrs. James Martin, Calhoun, were also dinner guests. Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Cooper were afternoon callers.

The Star Bridge Club met Tuesday evening with Mrs. Clyde Bridges. A dessert course was served preceding the games. Mrs. Robert Watt made high score for the members. Miss Myrtle Allen for the guests. Mrs. Earl Dillon Jr., Kansas City, and Mrs. J. O. Williams were also guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Acker have returned home after a month's vacation spent with relatives in California and Washington.

The Rev. and Mrs. William J. Moore and small daughter, Marcia Lee, left Monday for Miami, Fla., where they will attend the Southern Baptist Convention. Their son, David, is spending the time with his grandparents in Oklahoma. His parents will visit relatives there before returning home.

Sea Returns Old Fisherman Home, Dead In His Boat

EUREKA, Calif. (AP)—A commercial fisherman most of his 74 years, Stephen Mersich loved the sea.

The sea is often harsh. But for those who know it, it is often kind. The sea brought Stephen Mersich home after human hands had failed him.

His story, as reconstructed by Humboldt county Coroner Lloyd Wallace:

Fishing alone just south of this Northern California town yesterday, Mersich was seized by a heart attack. Gasping for breath, he was unable to call nearby boats.

So he fired his automatic pistol seven times—until the magazine was empty—in a futile effort to attract attention.

Then the old man collapsed over the engine of his boat. It chugged off, away from the fishing fleet, until it ran out of gas.

Just before dark passersby found the boat, high and dry atop a Humboldt Bay breakwater.

It rested as if it had been put there with loving care. The paint was hardly scratched.

The sea had returned Mersich, dead of the heart attack, home for burial.

is Ike's old family home. The Eisenhower boys turned it over to the Eisenhower Foundation after the death of their mother in 1946.

It has been kept just as she left it. Her dust cap still hangs from a rocking chair in the room in which she died. On the wall of the second floor bedroom where Eisenhower slept as a boy is hung the old-fashioned motto: "Thy will be done."

people here feel about Ike, go out on the street and call him a bad name—and see how quick something happens to you." Above the main street floats a giant sign saying: "Eisenhower for president." It has fallen down, or been blown down, four times since last November. Now it is firmly cabled to two banks.

"We've spent $150 to keep that sign up," said Henry B. Jameson, young newspaper executive here who served as an AP war correspondent with Eisenhower's forces in Europe. "It'll stay up now even if the bank walls fall down."

Despite the sign, Jameson, one of the committee members in charge of the Eisenhower celebration, said that "his welcome home is not set up on a political basis. We have Democrats on the committee."

The planners are expecting at least 10 state governors for the festivities. Among the scores of special trains will be two from Texas—one containing 115 Texans, the other containing the horses they will ride in the parade. Some 700 peace officers from all parts of Kansas will be brought here to handle traffic.

One of the more delicate issues involved is how long General Eisenhower plans to remain in this first visit home.

"Naturally, we want him to stay on as long as he can," said one resident, and added dubiously: "But I don't see how the town can handle the crowds for more than two days."

Col. Mahurin, Ace In Two Wars, Now Reported Missing

U.S. FIFTH AIR FORCE, Korea (AP)—The Air Force announced today that Col. Walker M. Mahurin, one of America's greatest fighter pilots, was shot down over Korea Tuesday.

The 33-year-old Sabre jet pilot who downed more than 25 planes in two wars hasn't been heard from since he radioed: "I've been hit by flak and I think I'm on fire."

The Air Force said it didn't know whether he parachuted.

Mahurin, from Fort Wayne, Ind., was pioneering the use of Sabre jet fighters in dive bombing. That was one of his jobs as a combat group commander of the Fourth Fighter Wing.

He was on his third mission of the day. He led Sabre dive bombing attacks on Communist airfields at Sinuiju across the Yalu River from Manchuria and on the rail network at Kunu, 85 miles to the southeast. He was hit over Kunu.

Mahurin shot down 21 planes in Europe and one in the Pacific in the second world war. He was credited with 3½ planes shot down in Korea, one probably destroyed and one damaged.

Mahurin came to Korea five months ago and was originally under command of his close friend and World War II rival, Col. Francis Gabreski, top American ace still flying in combat.

Oil Tieup May Ease Quickly

Union Chief Says All That's Needed Is Local Bargaining

WASHINGTON, May 15—(AP)—O. A. Knight, top strategy-maker of a score of unions involved in the nationwide oil strike, said tonight "we are calling off the strike," and government officials foresaw a quick end to the 16-day walkout.

Union and government officials said an actual end to the strike could come only through local agreements between union and management negotiators. Bargaining in the oil industry is on a local basis, involving some 22 different unions and hundreds of their locals.

These officials stressed that an actual end to the strike will come gradually, as such local agreements are reached.

Knight, who is president of the CIO Oilworkers Union, voiced his statement in a film made by Tele-News Productions, Inc., for television stations. He said that "with proper co-operation" there will be enough settlements by tonight to make a start at easing what he termed a pressing shortage of aviation gasoline.

About the same time, Cyrus S. Ching, director of the federal mediation service, said: "I hope the oil crisis has been averted." He told reporters that federal conciliation teams have set up 15 negotiating sessions around the country for tomorrow.

The 16-day strike of 90,000 oil workers was reported exerting a critical pinch on supplies of aviation fuel. Effects of the strike over wages reached all the way to Australia where airlines almost halved their customary flight schedules.

Many Parleys Held

Federal conciliators met or scheduled meetings with company and union negotiators in a score of key disputes, seeking agreement on wage hikes up to 15 cents an hour. The Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) yesterday set a wage boost ceiling of that amount for virtually all new contracts in the industry. Several tentative settlements were reported today. One calling for the 15-cent figure was signed for 400 workers at the Globe Refinery Co. plant at Lehigh, Ill. It was the first break in the Chicago area.

The wage board, meanwhile gave its approval to six negotiated agreements submitted to it in the past few weeks. It stuck to its 15-cent ceiling in all cases. None of the six disputes involved workers now on strike.

One touchy question—How much back-pay should be given—was a possibly obstacle to quick settlement in some cases. The WSB did not rule on retroactivity. That will be considered by the WSB in individual cases as wage pacts are presented it for approval under stabilization rules.

Negotiations in such key concerns as Standard of Indiana, Gulf Oil, The Texas Co., Magnolia Petroleum Co. and Phillips Petroleum were getting the closest government attention. A large part of the output of these big companies is aviation fuel.

A government official in position to know expressed belief the strike will have little or no effect on availability of motor gasoline, home heating oil and other major petroleum products this summer and next winter.

Truman Prepares To Stump Nation

WASHINGTON, May 15—(AP)—President Truman said today he means to stump the country just as hard for this year's Democratic presidential candidate as he did in his own famous whistle stop campaign in 1948.

And he predicted the Democratic nominee will win on a platform of what he called "Trumanism" despite efforts of "the mossbacks" to depict administration farm and other measures as socialism.

"All this talk about socialism is just plain bunk and hokum," Truman told a crowd of several thousand at a Washington monument presentation of awards for achievement to some 140 Agriculture Department employees.

The President declared the Roosevelt and Truman administration having rescued the American farmer from poverty through a great crusade that has brought about "a real revolution, a peaceful revolution" in agriculture.

More than that, he said, the 15 two administrations have proved that a planned economy works "in agriculture and in every other aspect of our national life."

As for farmers, the President declared:

"I am one of them. As soon as I quit being President I am going back to the farm (near Independence and Gladview, Mo.)."

Bonn Government Plans Big Troop Buildup

BONN, Germany, May 15—(AP)—The Bonn government plans to organize 200,000 first line troops as the core of its contribution to a unified European army, authoritative German sources said tonight.

Recruiting of a 12-division force is expected to start early in 1953. Four armored, four mechanized and four infantry divisions are proposed, along with a tactical air force of 1,200 or more planes that probably will include American type Sabre jets.

Peacocks for Bandits

Alfred A. Gagnon, 41, of Pawtucket, R. I., was reported to have told police that he supplied the pea coats to the bandits who made the fabulous $1,219,000 Brink's robbery in Boston in 1950. US Abolishes Its Controls On 4 Metals

WASHINGTON, May 15—(AP)—The government today lifted controls on four metals, eased its ban on amusement and recreation construction, and gave out word that price ceilings on raw cotton and liquor are about to be suspended.

Dairymen went before Congress to ask that it take price ceiling off milk and milk products but that it retain curbs on the amount of foreign cheese and fats which may be imported.

These were the developments: Cotton—An Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) official told a reporter that an order ready for approval within a matter of hours would suspend price ceilings on raw cotton, as southern members of Congress have been urging, and one or two other commodities.

Liquor—Price controls on liquor probably will be lifted next week, OPS sources said, but the action is not expected to bring any rise in retail prices.

Building—The National Production Authority (NPA) ordered a relaxation effective July 1 of its ban on the building of amusement and recreation places. It also restored the right to use structural steel and aluminum to new houses, as of mid-year, and eased its restraints on construction of shops, stores and office buildings.

Metals—NPA revoked outright its controls over lead, antimony, cadmium and bismuth. In addition, allocation and limitations on the use of zinc were lifted, leaving this metal only to inventory controls.

Youth Suffers Fractured Neck In Wreck Here

One youth was seriously hurt and two others escaped injury in an automobile accident which occurred about 4 p.m. Thursday on the Water Works Road about 1 1/2 miles south of Sedalia.

George C. Fletcher, 16, 1504 East Fifth, driver of a 1937 model car which was going north, reportedly lost control of the car, and it went into the ditch on the left side of the road. It went a distance in the ditch and then returned to the road and turned over. The driver escaped injury.

The injured youth was Clifford Eugene Jett, 16, 1404 East Fourth. He suffered a fractured neck, broken rib and bruises and is in a serious condition in Bothwell Hospital. He was taken to the hospital by a passerby and treated by Dr. D. R. Edwards.

Another passenger in the car, Robert Leon Priensendorf, 15, 1308 East Sixth, was uninjured.

Chamberlin's wrecker towed the car to Sedalia.

4 Crewmen Die In Explosion Of Ship Carrying Gasoline

WILMINGTON, Del., May 15—(AP)—A tanker carrying 650,000 gallons of high octane gasoline burned and sank after a collision with another vessel early today in the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal. Four missing crewmen went down with the ship, their captain said.

Capt. Roger Sears, 54, of Jackson Heights, L. I., escaped with five other crew members of the F. L. Hayes by jumping overboard. All were taken to Delaware Hospital for treatment for shock or minor injuries.

A flaming torch for more than 12 hours after the crash, the 240-foot tanker sank partially across the heavily-travelled waterway. The Hayes' prow was nosed firmly into a mudbank. Visible parts of the deck and superstructure, scorched and twisted by the fire, showed plainly that nobody could have survived aboard.

Wreckage Blocks Canal

There was no immediate indication when it might be possible to resume ocean going traffic through the 19-mile waterway across the Delmarva Peninsula. The canal provides a shortcut for vessels traveling from Chesapeake Bay to Delaware Bay, between

Truman Rebukes Dewey

President States Governor In Error On Reported Rigging Of 1948 Farm Prices

WASHINGTON, May 15—(AP)—President Truman said today Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York made an untruthful statement last week-end when he accused the administration of rigging farm prices just before the 1948 election.

Dewey, who was defeated by Truman in that election, made the charge in a television interview here. He said the Democrats "pulled the plug out from under corn, hogs and beans" in an effort to convince the farmers "what would happen if the Republicans got in."

"If they try it again this time, they're going to get caught," Dewey said, adding the "riggings" played a large part in his defeat. Asked about this at his news conference today the President said there was not a word of truth in the remark.

Dewey knows it, Truman said, adding it was just a political statement.

Politics Main Topic

The President dealt mostly with politics at his interview today. He said he may attend the Democratic National convention to make a party speech as a start of a whistle-stop campaign, but if he goes it will be after nominations have been made for President and Vice-President.

He would go, if at all, as a delegate from his home state of Missouri. He said to go before nominees have been selected gave the impression he wanted to dominate the convention. He emphatically denied any such intention. To avoid that charge, he said, his alternate would do the voting on the convention floor.

He said he had been a delegate from Missouri for years before he entered the White House and in response to further questions stated he would deem it an honor if the Missouri state convention May 26 named him a delegate.

Hayes Welcomes Truman

Democratic leaders in Missouri indicated Truman would be chosen a delegate. Frank Hayes, state chairman, told newsmen at Kansas City: "I assume if the President wants to be a delegate, the state convention will elect him as a member at large. . . . He would be a great asset."

It Gov. James T. Blair, Jr., who is on a visit here, said: "He's the only President Missouri ever had, and if we didn't do it for him, we'd be a pretty queer set of birds."

The President remarked he had not yet made up his mind whom he would support for the presidential nomination but he knows the kind of candidate. With a broad grin he recalled a speech by Vice-President Barkley who quoted Josh Billings as advising people to be good to all, including poor relations, for some day they might grow up to be rich.

Pastor Debate Draws Throng In Oklahoma

STILLWATER, Okla., May 15—(AP)—An oratorical marathon between two Stillwater pastors debating various issues of their religious concepts attracted a large crowd for the third straight night.

Dr. Eric Beavers of St. Francis took the stand in tonight's issue that the Catholic church is the original apostolic authority.

The Rev. Eldred Stevens of the Church of Christ contended the New Testament is the supreme reference of the Christian religion.

Stevens explained the purpose of the debates is to stimulate public interest.

The church was crowded tonight as were its lawn and parking where spectators listened to the debate through a public address system.

Baltimore and Philadelphia, New York and New England ports. The Hayes was westbound through the canal shortly after midnight. Capt. Sears said he was waiting for the 6,100-ton freighter Barbara Lykes, eastbound, to pass when the Lykes veered and struck the Hayes. Fire flashed quickly throughout the tanker. Sears turned her prow into the sandy canal bank, then jumped.

The Lykes completed passage through the canal, where it had no room to turn around or maneuver, anchored for a while in the Delaware River, then sailed for New York. Her owners, Lykes Bros., said they had received a report she was not seriously damaged, but that Capt. M. C. Wood, has not yet reported his version of what happened.

Gasoline Covers 3rd Ship

A third ship, the 6,700-ton freighter Angelina, of the Bull Line, was following the Lykes and was forced to pass close to the burning Hayes. One of a series of explosions that ripped the tanker threw burning gasoline onto the Angelina. Two crew members, burned extinguishing a small fire, were treated at a hospital after the Angelina docked several hours later at Philadelphia.

Industry Tries To Kill Checks Says Senator

PHILADELPHIA, May 15—(AP)—Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) charged today that corporate interests are using the steel labor dispute as part of a "grand strategy" to kill the Truman administration's inflation control program.

Humphrey told the 2,500 cheering delegates at the CIO-Steelworkers Union convention that business interests have been attempting for two years to destroy wage-price controls and now are redoubling their efforts in the Congress.

"Do you realize what is going on?" Humphrey asked. "This is the final play. This is the grand play. This is the end of the grand strategy to put an end to the price control and to the anti-inflation control of your government."

"That's what it amounts to. This is an effort on the part of the corporate industries."

Philip Murray, head of the CIO and the Steelworkers Union, told the convention again that he never would agree to steel industry labor contracts containing anything less than the 26-cent hourly package and union shop recommended by the Wage Stabilization Board.

"This organization is not going to compromise any more on this issue," Murray insisted. "Our demands already have been promised by the WSB. We didn't get all we wanted by any means, and we're in no mood to compromise any more with anybody."

Steel companies have rejected the WSB's full proposals on the ground they would be too costly.

Both Humphrey and another speaker, Joseph A. Beirne, president of the CIO's Communication Workers and a former labor member of the WSB, contended that the board's findings were modest and justified.

Beirne said any suggestion that the WSB's public and labor members be gotten together in "some sort of collusive agreement" in the steel case was "nothing more than a deliberate, premeditated and damnable lie."

Twice A Mental Patient

Earlier, he was an inmate at the Marshall-Carrollton State School for feeble-minded and the psychopathic ward of the Belle-Fontaine Farm for Juveniles in St. Louis County.

The governor said he didn't know why insanity was not pleaded as a defense when Johnson was tried in the St. Louis County circuit court for the murder of officer Scott.

Under the commutation, Johnson will have to spend the rest of his life either in the Missouri penitentiary or in a state mental hospital for criminally insane patients.

Judge Reeves Studies Mueller Damage Suit

KANSAS CITY, May 15—(AP)—U. S. District Judge Albert L. Reeves late today took under advisement the $150,000 damage suit brought by Robert Mueller against the sheriff and a deputy sheriff of Boone County, Missouri.

Mueller alleged Sheriff Glenn Powell and Deputy Julius Wedemeyer arrested him falsely for investigation in connection with the rape-slaying of a 14-year-old baby sister at Columbia in 1950.

Judge Reeves said he probably would make a decision after June 2.

Ike May Make Speech In Detroit June 14

DETROIT, May 15—(AP)—supporters of General Dwight D. Eisenhower said tonight prospects are good that he will make a major speech here June 14.

John Feikens, head of the Michigan - for - Eisenhower campaign, said he expects to know definitely within 24 hours.

General Eisenhower's first speech after he returns from Europe will be on June 4 in Abilene, Kan., his boyhood home.

Smith Stops An Execution At 11th Hour

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., May 15—(AP)—Gov. Forrest Smith said he will commute John Lewis Johnson from the death sentence tonight to a life term in prison.

He said he was taking that action because he was convinced the 30-year-old Negro man did not have the mental capacity to know right from wrong.

Johnson was scheduled to enter Missouri's lethal gas chamber just after midnight tonight for killing a St. Louis County policeman, Pelham C. Scott, Oct. 9, 1949. Another officer, whose last name was Juettmeyer, also was slain but Johnson was not tried for that killing.

Papers Not Completed

The governor said he had not completed the papers to stop the execution but he would have them ready well before the execution time.

The governor said Johnson's father, Rev. Johnson St. Louis, was one of those who asked for leniency. Smith said he asked a psychiatrist to study the convict today.

The governor had just received the doctor's report before his afternoon news conference Smith told newsmen immediately he planned to change the death sentence to life imprisonment.

He said the records showed Johnson had been in three corrective institutions because he is a feeble minded epileptic.

In 1947, Johnson was transferred from the federal prison in Terre Haute, Ind., to the U. S. medical center at Springfield, Mo. He was sentenced to the prison for taking a stolen car across a state line.

House Votes Tax Relief For Itself

WASHINGTON, May 15—(AP)—The House voted tax relief to all members of Congress today. An Internal Revenue official said the plan would permit the lawmakers, in figuring their income tax, to deduct all expenses while in Washington.

The amendment was offered by Rep. McCormick of Massachusetts, the Democratic leader in the House who also will head his party's platform-drafting committee. The amendment was adopted without a record vote.

It provides that for taxable years starting after next December 31, the place of residence of a member of Congress in the state, district or territory he represents "shall be considered to be his home" for purposes of the federal tax laws.

A quick query by reporters brought the Internal Revenue interpretation. The bureau spokesman said business men may now deduct business expenses incurred in Washington if they live elsewhere, but Congress members can't.

In the case of some Congressmen who live in high-priced Washington hotels or apartments, the business deduction for that purpose alone could run into thousands. The deduction also would apply to the cost of food, transportation and other expenses while the member is attending sessions of Congress.

Frequently Congress stays in sessions almost an entire year. Congressmen now get a $2,500 taxfree expense account on top of their $12,500 annual salary. However this exemption is to expire Jan. 1.

In another move to help Congressmen, the House also voted to give its members up to $900 annually for rental of office space in their home districts if free space can't be provided in federal buildings back home. The cost of this program alone could exceed $400,000 annually if all members took advantage of it.

Taft Pick-Up 2 Delegates At Kirksville's Convention

KIRKSVILLE, May 15—(AP)—Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio picked up two more Republican presidential delegates today in the Missouri's final GOP district convention.

That gave Taft five of the Missouri delegates and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower 17 sure votes plus four more claimed by the Eisenhower forces.

Both of the delegates selected in a stormy first district congressional convention said flatly they would support Taft. One is William B. Huston, Kirksville, Adair County GOP chairman, first district GOP chairman, who is in the insurance business here. The other delegate is L. W. Hoover, Princeton who is in the tractor and implement business. He formerly was postmaster at Princeton and is a past Mercer County GOP chairman.

The two alternates elected were Mrs. Maude A. Dean, Spickard, who is uncommitted but is claimed by the Eisenhower supporters, and Mrs. Blanche M. Borton, Kahoka, who is a Taft supporter.

The convention also endorsed A. D. (Bud) Welch of St. Louis for

Gen. Boatner Ends Soft-Glove Policy At Kojima PW Camp

KOJIMA ISLAND, Friday, May 16—(AP)—A new era of firm rule was proclaimed Thursday for Kojima Island, ending soft measures that allowed Red prisoners to negotiate with their captors and flaunt "insulting signs."

Brig. Gen. Haydon Boatner made this clear to correspondents 24 hours after he had taken over the festering prison island—scene of two riots and the sensational seizure of Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd.

Boatner declared he would, of course, hew strictly to the Geneva Convention for humane treatment of war prisoners, but that the communists behind the barbed wire would have to learn who was boss.

Even as Boatner talked with correspondents, three prisoners tried to escape from their compounds and one of them was shot by a guard.

Tanks Ready For Action

Tanks, some of them equipped with flame throwers, stood ready to foil any mass escape attempt such as the Reds threatened at the heights of the Dodd incident. Troops were on the alert. Camp authorities were confident they could prevent any big break by the 80,000 prisoners.

Boatner said he believed the Allies had been too lenient on Kojima and had given prisoners "more, in my opinion, than required by the Geneva Convention."

Boatner showed irritation at the idea of prisoners taking control inside the compounds and making demands on camp officials.

"Prisoners don't negotiate," he declared.

Correspondents asked if, in his brief tour of duty, he had seen things that needed changing on this island off the southeast coast of Korea.

Signs Irritate Boatner

"You're damned right I've spotted some things," he snapped. "For one thing, I don't like those insulting signs, and the flags, and the demands."

Boatner's stiff attitude doubtless was bolstered by the dissatisfaction shown by higher authorities in Tokyo and Washington over the way the Dodd kidnapping incident was handled.

Boatner described incidents on the island as "symbols of defiance—not mutiny."

"It's just like a child who throws a tantrum at bedtime," he said. "You let them get away with it once, they will throw a tantrum every night."

Undoubtedly, they will assert this is further evidence in support of their charges—denied by the Allies—of inhumane treatment of prisoners.

The Communist charges Thursday ran to fantastic lengths, such as statements that prisoners were subjected to poison, gas, German warfar and atom bomb experiments.

Red Charges Ridiculous

Wary Allied negotiators could only reply "ridiculous" and "preposterous" as the stream of Red charges flooded the conference tent at Panmunjom.

The negotiating generals and admirals from the warring nations gathered at Panmunjom today at 8 p.m. CST.

Once again at Thursday's sessions the Communists dared the Allies to break off tie negotiations.

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, senior United Nations Command delegate, after listening to a long Communist tirade suggested that the meeting be recessed until the Reds had something constructive to offer.

"Unless you announce officially your disruption of this conference we will insist on meeting," retorted Gen. Nam Il, the North Korean who heads the Communist delegation.

Nam Il Talks Rough

In the most sweeping blast of the 10-month-old negotiations, Nam Il charged the Allies used captives for experiments "with poison, gas, germ weapons and atomic bombs."

In reply, Joy asked Nam Il to join in rescinding Communist captives who say they would rather die than go back to Red rule. He declared the world dismissed the Red charges "as obviously springing from fear of what this screening would show."

(Peiping fired the first propaganda gun on the Clark statement in a broadcast heard in San Francisco by the Associated Press Thursday afternoon. It followed the expected line.)

(Peiping said the headquarters spokesman for the North Korean and Chinese Red Army issued a statement saying Clark showed by the repudiation that the Allies were "continuing their sanguinary policy toward our captured personnel in violation of all human decency and the Geneva convention.")

Corn Price Climbs Following Hog Boom

CHICAGO, May 15—(AP)—A booming live hog market, where prices jumped to new highs for the year, spurred buying in corn on the Board of Trade today.

There wasn't much pattern to the rest of the market. Prices in wheat moved up and down throughout the session and wound up with little change. Oats weakened considerably along with a slump in the cash grain. May soybeans firmed above $3 on short-covering.

Wheat closed 1/4 lower to 3/4 higher, corn 1/4-3/4 higher, oats 1/4-3/4 lower, rye unchanged to 3/4 lower, and soybeans 1/4 lower to 2 cents higher.

Traders based their buying in corn on the ground that the sharp hog price rise this week would further improve the corn-hog feed ratio. There still are some grain analysts who think old crop corn will become quite scarce before the new crop comes in.

Three Hurt In Car Wreck South Of Town

Two persons were injured severely, another less injured, while three others disappeared from an automobile accident (and whether they were injured could not be learned late last night) on the Grand Avenue Ford road south of Sedalia, about 9:30 p.m. Friday.

Dean Winfrey, 19, 414 North Hurley, driver of the 1940 Lincoln sedan, told Sgt. W. S. Barton that he evidently lost control of his car as it approached the curve and the blacktop pavement. The car skidded approximately 75 feet and nosed head on into a three-foot ditch and struck an embankment.

Winfrey suffered a chest injury, laceration on the right wrist, and head injuries. He was admitted to the hospital and kept for observation. Dr. A. J. Campbell was the attending physician.

Eddie Clark, 17, 658 East 12th, riding in the front seat with Winfrey, suffered a dislocation of the left hip, bruise on his forehead and other bruises about his body. He was treated by Dr. C. Gordon Stauffer.

Junior Pirtle, 17, 905 East 11th, also in the front seat suffered a laceration on the right hand and bruises. He was treated by Dr. C. Stauffer.

According to Pirtle, three other persons were in the car and he named them as Bill Bellis, 18, 1113 South Massachusetts; Buddy Tarr, 1020 South Missouri; and Percy Paul, 519 West Broadway. Pirtle said the three disappeared after the wreck. Sgt. Barton was unable to contact any of the three to determine if they were or were not in the accident.

Pirtle, after he got out of the wreck, said he went to a farm home and called his folks. The farm woman called the Hamlin wrecker.

Carl Dedrick, of Hamlins made the call. A few seconds before he received the wreck call he had a service call in the same locality for a car which had run out of gasoline. Upon his arrival at the scene he left the gasoline to the persons and continued on to the wreck. Finding Clark to be in a bad condition, and his mother there, he took the boy to the Bothwell Hospital before clearing the wreck. The others were taken to the hospital in another automobile. The car was damaged badly.

POST EXCHANGE AT SAFE OPENED

Although small, the new PX at the SAFB has all the essentials for the men of the Air Force and it was opened only a few days ago. A portion of the PX is shown in the above picture with A2c Charles F. Stewart Jr., clerk behind the counter, waiting on one of the first customers, A1c William E. Peters. The PX is not as elaborate as that planned for the base, but it handles all emergency needs for the men now stationed there, who number better than 200 enlisted men and officers. Limited as to space—there is an ample supply of basic needs such as a wide assortment of candy, gum, tobacco of all kinds, toiletries, stationery, ink pens, pencils, and shoe polish.

In the near future such items as clothing, uniform accessories, radios, watches and other desired merchandise will be stocked.

Captain Wilfred H. Housenga is the PX officer-in-charge. It was made possible, Capt. Housenga said, through the cooperation of Ft. Leonard Wood, from where the fixtures and stock were obtained.

Present opening hours of the PX are from 1:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. and from 4 p. m. to 5:30 p. m. (Photo by First Lieut. I. M. Ven-tura, USAF).

Ask to See the 'Blue Card'

C. of C. Warns of Solicitors Taking Money With 'Rackets'

Solicitors seemed to be swarming into town from all directions and the solicitation committee of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce asks the cooperation of merchants in asking for the blue card approval from the C. of C. before giving any money or buying advertising from out-of-town people.

The solicitation committee has been set up in the Chamber of Commerce under the Better Business Bureau to investigate all people who want to solicit in Sedalia. Before a merchant pays anyone any money he should ask to see the blue card from the Chamber of Commerce. It is not enough to merely inquire if the person has been to the Chamber of Commerce. Local merchants would save money and embarrassment if they would be certain that the solicitor not only has been to the C. of C. but has been approved by them.

Right now, one of the biggest schemes seems to be selling advertising in railroad books and magazines. A man was stopped on such an endeavor this past week and had no license, no card of approval and admitted, when arrested, he should not have been soliciting here. He paid a fine and went on his way. Several weeks ago another man was picked up who was in the same racket and, although he gave back all the money, it was found he had a bad record.

There is no law to keep these solicitors from going around to see the merchants and the only protection merchants have is for them to call the Chamber of Commerce and check.

The bouffant skirt was gathered on either side giving a panier effect, which ended in a long Cathedral train. Her half bonnet of white satin was trimmed with a tiny white ostrich curl and held a finery illusion of nylon. She carried a prayer book showered with gardenias.

The maid of honor, Miss Genevieve Dick, wore a jonquil yellow marquisette dress styled with a deep square neckline which was cuffed with matching satin collar. The bouffant skirt had tiny bands of matching satin giving an apron effect across the front and ended in a deep V at the back. Her bandeau of jonquil satin with tailored bow held a miniature face veil of matching illusion.

The bridesmaid, Miss Dorothy Smasal, wore a gown of mint green of the same design as that of the maid of honor. Both girls carried colonial bouquets of full blown pink roses tied with leaf green ribbon.
